

Transforming Conflict at Work

“This conflict has put the whole department at risk of being closed down. Ultimately the department will be closed down because it is too much hassle to relocate people and deal with.”

“The individual was disciplined and dismissed. Now this individual is claiming unfair dismissal on the grounds they were suffering work related stress.”

“My managers don’t know what the right thing to do is, so they do nothing because they are scared of doing it wrong.”

 opt for learning workshops

Opt for learning offer a variety of development workshops to reduce the risk of destructive allegations of harassment, discrimination and unfairness.

Delivered by Opt for learning experts, or led by your own workers supported by Opt for learning, the Workshops cover the full spectrum of conflict at work.

Opt for learning, helping you to Transform Conflict at Work to meet legal obligations, while developing an effective strategy for healthy and productive workplace relationships.
